

SOUTHERN VEGETABLES AND FRUITS APPEARING

Increases in Supply Is Causing a Gradual Dropping in Prices.

Practically All Meats on List. However, Show Advances—Bernuda
Onions Obtainable.

Fruits and vegetables from the south and west are making their appearance on the market in increasing quantities, and some few vegetables from home gardens also are appearing. This increase in the supply is causing a gradual dropping in prices in the markets and decreasing prices will continue until the summer level is reached.

Spinach, cucumbers, squash, sweet peppers, strawberries and pineapples are all lower in price today than they were a week ago. Alligator pears and cherries from California have made their appearance on the fruit benches, the former selling at 30 to 35 cents each, and the latter at 50 cents a pound. Spanish onions have practically disappeared from the market, their place has been taken by Bermuda onions at 15 cents a small box. While fruits and vegetables show decreasing prices, meats are taking an advance.

In the past week there has been a decided advance in wholesale meat prices, and the retail dealers have been forced to follow the advance. All meats in the list, with but one or two exceptions, are affected. Boston market prices on the fish benches and are selling at 50 to 75 cents each. Prices in the fish market remain unchanged from those of last week, the supply on all varieties, with the possible exception of shad and herring, being good. Geese have disappeared from the poultry benches, and capons, which last week sold at from 25 to 30 cents a pound, are this week quoted at 25 to 35 cents a pound.

AMPLE SUPPLY OF FISH.

Dealers, However, Report Slightly Higher Prices on Some Varieties.

Dealers in sea food at the wholesale market at the wharf report a supply of most varieties of fresh fish on hand ample to meet all demands. Shad and herring receipts continue light, and as a consequence prices on these are somewhat higher than they were a week ago. The general opinion about the wharf market seems to be that the shad and herring season is nearly over for this year, and that the receipts of the fish will hereafter be light.

Prices on many varieties of fish are slightly higher than they were a week ago, and this morning ranged about as follows: Roe shad, 50 cents each; buck shad, 25 to 40 cents each; herring, $7.50 to $10 a thousand; yellow perch, 15 to 25 cents a bunch; small white perch, 10 to 15 cents a bunch; catfish, 25 to 40 cents a bunch; salmon trout, 20 to 25 cents a bunch; bluefish, 8 to 10 cents a pound; Spanish mackerel, 10 to 12 1/2 cents a pound; mullets, 5 cents a pound; large white perch, 8 to 10 cents a pound; rock, 10 to 15 cents a pound; salibut, 12 to 15 cents a pound; flounders, 3 cents a pound; gray trout, 15 to 18 cents a barrel; crockers, 32 cents a barrel; butternuts, 45 cents a barrel. Hard crabs are selling at $2.50 a barrel; soft crabs at 40 to 60 cents a dozen, and clams, 50 cents to $1 a hundred.
